

Word/Idiom of the Week 45

In the cold light of day

Dispassionately, unemotionally, especially at a later time.

i.e., Both of you look extremely angry. Maybe you should all go home and look at this issue again tomorrow in the cold light of day.

Make your own sentences:

